A business handed over for a symbolic sum now turns over ₽219bn

- In May 2022 McDonald's sold its 850 Russian restaurants to Alexander Govor for a symbolic consideration, took a $1.2bn write-off and retained a 15-year buy-back option.
- The operating entity never changed: LLC Sistema PBO, TIN 7710044140, incorporated in 1996 — the same legal entity that traded as McDonald's.
- It still files statutory accounts every year. So the question of what it is worth today can be answered from public records alone: no insider data, no management access.

Four entities stand between the restaurants and the owner

The owner also holds JSC SP Holding and LLC Tekhnologii i tochka directly; both sit outside the operating perimeter.

LLC Sistema PBO

the operating company: 960+ restaurants, ₽218.6bn revenue, ₽14.4bn net profit

LLC Klub Otel

holds 100% of Sistema PBO and 100% of LLC GiD, the former Siberian franchisee

JSC VIT

holds 99% of Klub Otel and acts as its managing company; 1% sits with the owner directly

The handover year is visible in the accounts

Year	Revenue	Net profit	Equity
2021 as McDonald's	75.2	2.0	21.7
2022 handover	73.5	(11.3)	41.5
2023	155.7	14.2	41.5
2024	187.4	17.0	32.0
2025	218.6	14.4	32.2

Revenue has tripled in four years.

Profit did not follow in 2025: cost of sales rose 19% against 16.7% revenue growth.

Equity fell from ₽41.5bn to ₽32.2bn as almost all profit was paid out — ₽14.2bn of dividends in 2025 alone.

Adding up the entities would overstate the group by 88%

- Valuing all six entities and summing them gives ₽96.1bn. That number is wrong, and the filings show exactly why.

- Klub Otel's revenue line is the dividend it receives from Sistema PBO — ₽14.2bn in 2025 — and its assets are the shares in PBO itself. JSC VIT sits one tier above and does the same.
- The dividend trail reconciles across three sets of accounts: PBO paid ₽14.2bn, Klub Otel booked ₽14.2bn, JSC VIT booked ₽15.6bn.
- Counting the operating companies only — Sistema PBO and GiD — gives ₽51bn.

Note: Double counting is the most common error when a group is valued entity by entity

2022 does not belong in the earnings base

- A plain five-year average profit is ₽7.3bn, dragged down by the ₽11.3bn loss booked in the year of the handover.
- That loss reflects write-downs and one-off costs of transferring 850 restaurants, not trading performance, and it will not repeat.
- The normalised base — the 2023 to 2025 average — is ₽15.2bn.
- Every figure that follows uses the normalised base, and the gap to the mechanical average is disclosed here rather than buried in a footnote.

Four cross-checks, not one number

Approach	Input	Value, RUB bn
Net assets (cost)	Equity at 31.12.2025	32.2
Capitalised earnings	₽15.2bn / 22%	69.0
Peer multiples	P/E 5–6x: X5, Lenta, Magnit	72–87
Dividend capacity	₽14.2bn / 22%	64.5

Discount rate: the 10-year OFZ yield is 16.2% and the key rate 14%, so a 22% capitalisation rate is the risk-free rate plus equity, size and illiquidity premia, less long-term growth. EV/EBITDA is deliberately absent: depreciation is not disclosed in Russian statutory forms.

Peer multiples: VTB Capital and T-Investments research, 2026. OFZ curve as of 15.10.2026.

Note: The asset handed over for a symbolic sum is now worth roughly two thirds of that write-off

What this is not

- Russian statutory accounts, not IFRS: no lease capitalisation under IFRS 16, no brand or goodwill on the balance sheet. An IFRS view would look materially different.
- JSC shareholder registers are closed in Russia, so the top tier of the structure is stated as filed on incorporation rather than independently verified.
- LLC GiD's latest available accounts are for 2023, and it is carried at a nominal value.

- This is a desktop valuation from public sources: not an appraisal report under FSO or RICS standards, and not investment advice.

How it was built

- Entity perimeter and ownership from EGRUL, the Russian companies register, with stakes taken from Federal Tax Service extracts.
- Five years of balance sheets and income statements pulled from GIR BO, the state register of statutory accounts, for every entity in scope.
- The structure chart and the underlying workbook are generated automatically; the judgement — perimeter, normalisation, discount rate — is made by hand.
- Full workbook, with statements per entity, the ownership map and the valuation build-up, is available on request.
